

Transparency

Almirall is committed to maintaining a culture of transparency. We are open about our financial relationships with healthcare professionals and business partners.

Our professional interactions stem from a strong belief that through collaboration we provide treatment options to patients affected by skin health conditions.

While guided by a noble goal and ethically driven, we are transparent and report consistently financial interactions with healthcare professionals to federal, state and local authorities according to applicable laws and requirements.

CMS Open Payments